

A file is an abstract object that can store Data and has associated with it additional descriptive facts we call Meta-data